

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 A digital cross connect includes a first transport switch that grooms inbound traffic for at least one local switch and a second transport switch that grooms outbound traffic for the local switch(es). The transport switches may operate independently. The local switch(es) may be protocol switches. The digital cross connect may be deployed in a central office in an electrical, optical, or wireless network.